

Internships Available

Marketing Internship

Job Description: This is a great opportunity in a visionary and ambitious startup company bringing the first Web 2.0 project to Fresno State University and the Fresno Community. The Marketing Intern will aid in writing articles, ad campaigns, weekly newsletters, blogs, keeping social networking profiles up to-date, and other tasks related to marketing of the website.

Knowledge: Must have some understanding of Microsoft Products (Publisher, PowerPoint and Word), video sharing websites (Youtube.com, Google Video, etc.) and social networking sites

Graphic Design Artist

Job Description: This is a great opportunity in a visionary and ambitious startup company bringing the first Web 2.0 project to Fresno State University and the Fresno Community. The Graphic Design Artist will play a key role in drafting designs for marketing, sale, web development, publications, investor relations, and other very important areas. Therefore, skill level and experience must be significant to support the assigned responsibility.

Knowledge: Applicants should be sufficient or have basic knowledge of web design languages

Programming Engineer Internship

Job Description: Web developer/Designer is required to deal with the functionality and design of the WatchDoit's existing web products. Works on website development utilizing various code languages/programs and image manipulation. Develops, integrates both front and back end applications and scripts that are used to update the company's products.

Knowledge: Experience of JSPs, HTML and GUI are needed. Successful candidates will be able to demonstrate initiative, have flair and character to come up with striking ideas and have excellent communication and listening skills. Proficiencies in XML, Photoshop, Dreamweaver, Flash 9.0. Knowledge of video editing software a plus. Coding requirements include moderate to

Research Assistant Internship

Job Description: This is a great opportunity in a visionary and ambitious startup company bringing the first Web 2.0 project to Fresno State University and the Fresno Community. The Research Assistant will play an important role in finding the best instructional videos on the web, participate in round-table discussions, and actively promote the massive video library of WatchDoit.com. Other opportunities for role expansion will become available as the assistants skills/experienced are accessed.

If Interested

Please contact us at: info@watchdoit.com

Email (w/resume): erik.manson@watchdoit.com

